

Student Course Evaluations and Co-taught Courses

The new Anthology platform is designed to accommodate standard co-taught courses, where a standard co-taught course is one in which all the students in the class have meaningful interaction with all of the faculty who are listed as instructors for the course section. While the system is designed to accommodate this type of co-taught course, they are ~~more~~ ^{more} complicated to evaluate than a course that has only one