

Messiah College has a long-standing position of pacifism based upon our historical religious affiliation with the Brethren in Christ Church. While the College, in relation to its pacifist roots, does not individually highlight military careers, it likewise does not seek to limit students' opportunities to compare vocational options or access to information.

As such, military recruiters may join the College's comprehensive career fairs along with a spectrum of other employers. Military recruiters will not be permitted to set up individual recruiting and information stations on campus. Military recruiters may provide the Career and Professional Development Center with information that will be made available to students in the Center's Library.
